

WHEN WALKING IN THE RAIN

When walking in the rain through the rain wear warm clothing and your raincoat. Your skirt should be sufficiently short to keep from dragging in wetness about your ankles, for nothing will give you a cold more quickly.

The ideal walking costume consists of a short, warm skirt, a flannel blouse and a short jacket or raincoat. Wear a hat which the dampness cannot injure—one of soft felt is a wise choice. It should be trimmed with a simple band of soft silk or a quill. This obviates the necessity of carrying an umbrella.

The feet should be well protected by high waterproof boots. Those which extend half way to the knees, have thick soles and lace tightly about the ankles are the most practical.

Instead of wearing petticoats wear a pair of silk bloomers with this costume. If you are clad in this way it will be impossible for the dampness to penetrate to the skin. You may be exposed to a drenching shower, and though your coat be wet, the flannel blouse will protect your shoulders.

When walking in the rain keep constantly moving and regulate the length of time you remain out to the vigor of your constitution. One unaccustomed to walking will become tired in fifteen minutes. While another may safely walk three-quarters of an hour or even a whole hour and thoroughly enjoy it.

When you are overtired you are in danger of contracting cold, while a constant motion of the muscles will prevent you from feeling the slightest bit chilled.

Allow the rain to beat upon your face. It is the most refreshing sensation imaginable. Each rain drop beating upon the skin stimulates the action of the particular portion on which it falls.

There is nothing better for the complexion than rainwater, and if you are desirous of improving the texture of your skin you should never use anything else when bathing your face. Catch a quantity of fresh water every time it rains and notice how quickly it will reward you for the small amount of trouble.

When you return to the house after enjoying a walk in the shower immediately remove your damp clothing; then take a bath in warm water, followed by an alcohol rub. Rest for a few moments if you feel the slightest bit fatigued and you are ready for the next day's life may demand of you.

Fascinating Home Occupation

THE woman who is skilled in needlework or handicraft of any sort will need no preliminary training for making small pieces of leather work suitable for home decoration. First of all, take a stationary folder, for instance. It may be made any desired size, though each end should be made to fold inwardly to touch the center line to make the top cover. A good grade of soft black morocco leather, with black satin lining, would be a good combination, and the edges could be stitched with black silk thread or else bound with leather glued in place.

Corner pieces should also be cut and glued in place. These can be fancifully cut with an eyelet punch, and with the assistance of a pair of manicure scissors many artistic designs can be produced. For the holder use a piece of leather of any desired color, say 15 by 30 inches square. Fold the ends toward the center and crease along the folded edges, after which fit the pasteboard to what will be the bottom of the folder.

Make the lining, but before attaching it stitch two satin pockets on each end, which will be folded under with the overlaid corners. Bind the edges in any preferred style. If a monogram is desired cut the initials with a small eyelet punch and place satin back of it. This should be shown on one of the overlaid pieces.

If you care to furnish the folder with writing equipment fill the pockets with stationery and add a black penholder and lead pencil.

Hints About the Purchasing of Shoes

WHILE individual comfort must be the determining factor in purchasing shoes, yet there are a few general rules of some aid in obtaining that comfort.

The natural lines of the foot are graceful and beautiful, and this natural shape should not be lost sight of in selecting shoes. The large toe is usually longer than the others, and instead of running straight ahead, as in the so-called "anatomical" shoes, slopes slightly. The shoes should therefore be somewhat pointed, slanting from both sides toward the center, with the inner slant very slight.

Time spent in the shop obtaining a perfect fit in shoes is time well spent, for discomfort always means lowered efficiency and a degree of nervous strain. Laced shoes can be more readily adjusted and so are often preferred to the buttoned style. If the buttons are properly placed when the shoe is purchased, however, or after it has been worn a few days, buttoned shoes may be very satisfactory for the normal individual.

The close fitting, extremely pointed toes shoes with the absurd French heels can not be too strongly condemned. Very high heels are especially harmful to the young, as they throw the body out of correct position and hinder its proper development. The matter of wearing low shoes in cold weather should be noted too. It is important that the feet be kept warm and dry, as chilled feet are frequently responsible for numerous ills.

Experience with a large variety of materials has shown leather to be the best for all round use. It is tough, flexible, porous, reasonably waterproof and permits a moderate degree of ventilation.

See that the beam in your eyes is a snare.

WITHERED SKIN.
HOVERING over a hot stove to cook for several hours during the day will surely wrinkle the skin unless care is taken to prevent it. Every night cleanse the face with a cleansing cream; then massage ten minutes with a skin food. Wipe off any cream that is not absorbed, but use no water on the face. In the morning bathe the eyes with water, but use cream on the face.

READY FOR A SWIM

ALL the tiny girl or boy needs for a bathing suit is a pair of trunks and a jersey woven in one. The little girl will need an off silk cap to protect her locks from the salt water.

Bureau Boxes in Which To Keep Silk Stockings

THE careful woman does not tuck her silk stockings better away into a bureau drawer, but keeps each pair separate from the others in a long, narrow box divided off into compartments. This makes it easier also to select just the right pair of stockings when one is in a hurry, for the day of black silk stockings, with an occasional resort to white silk, is past. The modern woman has bronze stockings for bronze slippers, natural silk stockings for wear with fawn tipped buttoned boots and pastel tinted hosiery to match dancing slippers of satin.

It is easy to make a stockings box to fit bureau or chiffonier drawer. Cut up a long pasteboard box such as coats and suits are delivered in to make the stockings box. The partitions which divide the long, narrow box into compartments should be placed at intervals of about five or six inches apart, according to the length of the box. Cover all the pieces of pasteboard with cretonne or cover the sides of the box on the outside with satin and on the inside with pussy willow silk to match. In this case the partitions also will be covered with silk.

COLLARS AGAIN.

NOW that high collars are in fashion again the shops are selling collar forms. You remember the forms that we used to buy? They were made of crinoline or buckram or net mounted with stiffeners, and they simplified the making of a stiff standing collar most decidedly, and they were as uncomfortable as fashion demanded. The new forms are like them in most respects, but they are not uncomfortable. That is because the new collar is not uncomfortable, for it is low in front, although it is very high in back—that is to say, the collar that needs stiffening flares high at the back, but makes a V closing in front. One of these forms could be easily covered with silk or with chiffon.

ANNUAL WORK OF MINE LAYING IS ON AT ARMSTRONG

Late in September Two of Regulation Size and Charge Will Be Blown Up

About the last of September, Honolulu will have an opportunity to see what exploding mines look like. Two regulation size army mines, containing 100 pounds of gunpowder each, placed in the ocean near the anchorage at the left of the harbor mouth, will be exploded, as a part of the mine-laying practice held every year by the 16th Company, of Fort Armstrong.

This was announced today by Capt. F. M. Hinkle, U. S. Army Coast Artillery Corps, and commander of the mine-laying practice. He is assisted by Lieut. F. D. Sloan and H. Zornik, and the work will take between six and eight weeks, with the company's 108 men doing it.

Active work was started late today, when the U. S. Army mine planter Major Samuel Ringgold began laying the cables to which the mines, regulation army type but containing no explosives, will be attached. Each mine weighs about 800 pounds uncharged.

"We will lay out the cables today," said Capt. Hinkle on board the Ringgold at Fort Armstrong this morning, "and after this is completed, will start planting the mines themselves. We expect to be able to plant two or three groups of unloaded mines a day, each group having from seven to 12 mines, about 100 feet apart."

Most of this morning was devoted to overhauling the ship's gear, assembling the cables, and doing preparatory operations before placing the cables, which was to be done late today.

"During the course of mine-laying activities, we will have service mine practice," stated Captain Hinkle, "about the last of September, to the left of the harbor. This will probably take place in the daytime, about noon or so. We will blow up two actual mines, each containing 100 pounds of gunpowder."

The Ringgold arrived here Saturday, nine days from San Francisco, in command of Capt. H. F. Colley. The ship's home port is Seattle, and this is her annual visit for mine-laying practice.

ARMY NOTES

Owing to the big success of the citizens' military training camp for business and professional men now being held at the Presidio, San Francisco, Capt. Paul B. Malone of the Second Infantry, Fort Shafter, will not return to Honolulu next month as he had planned, but will remain at the camp as an instructor.

San Francisco newspapers state that the camp now has an enrollment of more than 80 citizens, and that Capt. Malone's lectures have been very instructive and well-attended. The camp was ordered by the war department. Major James G. Harbord, First Cavalry, is in charge.

Sixteen officers of the Hawaiian department, traveling under orders, will make the trip to San Francisco in the cruiser Maryland. This will somewhat relieve the transport congestion, but there are still a number of officers who will be left in Hawaii for an extra month owing to lack of accommodations. Officers who are ordered to the 24th Infantry at San Francisco, will be given the preference on the September boat, but as there will be no reservations for Oahu on the October boat, the balance will have to wait until November, when two transports will be returning from Manila.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Aug. 23.—Special Orders No. 172 were received from the War Department yesterday directing all officers recently assigned to regiments stationed in Hawaii to leave San Francisco on the transport sailing September 6 or 7. The officers leaving here to join their regiments in the states will pass those taking their places in mid-ocean. To the 24th Infantry comes Col. Walter H. Chatfield, 27th Infantry; Capt. Charles L. McKain, 20th Infantry; Edwin S. Hartshorn, 3d Infantry; Robert H. Peck, 22d Infantry, and John Randolph, 6th Infantry; 1st Lieut. Arthur T. Dalton, 20th Infantry; Claire R. Bennett, 17th Infantry; Robert M. Lyon, 11th Infantry, and Benjamin H. McClellan, 28th Infantry; 2d Lieut. Ralph C. Holliday, 22d Infantry; Theodore W. Martin, 17th Infantry; Edward F. Wells, 6th Infantry; Carl L. Cohen, 11th Infantry and Alfred W. Rockwood, 12th Infantry.

Company officers will be assigned to companies by their regimental commander.

The fact that the transport arriving here from the Philippines about September 4 is not crowded as was expected is a great relief to the officers ordered to the states, as many expected to have to double up in quarters with those coming in, but the War Department was appealed to and decided that officers desiring to remain on detached service might as well be on detached service in San Francisco as here. The good ship Maryland will, in a great measure, relieve the congestion on the transport as it will take the following passengers from Fort Shafter: Capt. D. W. Chamberlain, Lieut. Campanole, Silvester and Edgarly and Dental Surgeon Deiber. Members of the 24th Infantry leaving on the transport are: Col. Francis H. French, wife and daughter; Lieut. Vernon W. Boller and three sons; Lieut. L. O. Mathews, wife and three children; Lieut. C. H. Wright, wife and child; Lieut. and Mrs. Preston and Lieut. and Mrs. Reed. With the exception of Col. French and Lieut. Wright and Mathews, all of the above named officers go to the 24th Infantry and will wait in San Francisco until the return of that regiment from the Philippines.

Capt. John Randolph, coming to the 2d Infantry from the 6th Infantry, is a brother of Mrs. Atkinson, wife of Lieut.-Col. B. W. Atkinson of the 2d.

After two weeks of all sorts of harrowing experiences, brave deeds and mosquito warfare the 3d battalion left the camp fires burning brightly and under cover of daylight evaded their deadly enemy, the Waianae mosquito, and before their withdrawal was noted had scaled the heights of the Paia and were well on the road to Shafter on the evening of August 20, arriving in the post at 9 p. m. During their stay in camp mountain climbing was the favorite pastime, and all took part.

Before a crowded house at the Aerodrome on Saturday evening the pleasers gave an exhibition that made your mouth water. There were two preliminaries and would have been a final between the winners of the preliminary, but tight-fitting blouses and pie-eating contests conflicted. The winners of the first and second bouts decided to split the $5 between them and take no chances on spilling their figures. Pts. Jenko of Co. G, 2d Inf., and O'Neill of Co. E, were the winners. In addition to the contest several reels of good pictures were shown.

The 2d Infantry Exchange has announced that it is ready to open its fish pond again and will begin delivering fish on Tuesdays and Fridays. The fish pond is one of the most profitable features of the Exchange, in that the messes of the enlisted men can have fresh mullet twice a week and families of officers are supplied at small cost. On account of the fish and game laws the pond has been closed for the past six months.

Quite a number of the officers and ladies of the garrison motored over to Haliwa on Saturday evening to attend the ever popular moonlight boat on the Inani. Those from Shafter attending were Lieut. and Mrs. Richardson, Miss Richardson, Lieut. Jones, A. K. B. Lyman and Charles Lyman and Miss Catherine Lemban.

Pvt. John J. Finnegan, Co. B, 2d Inf., on duty with the machine gun company, is transferred to Company F, 2d Inf., and Pvt. James C. McPalmer, Co. F, 2d Inf., is transferred to the headquarters company.

PAN-PACIFIC CLUB TO AID IN ENTERTAINING U. S. ENVOY TO JAPAN

Though committees from the Sons of the American Revolution are working on the entertainment and reception to be tendered American Ambassador to Japan G. W. Guthrie on his arrival here August 31, complete arrangements have not been made, according to Dr. S. D. Barnes, president of the organization.

It has been decided to work with the Pan-Pacific Club, and Alexander Hume Ford is accordingly helping with the arrangements. A lunch or dinner will be served at the University Club depending upon the time of the boat's arrival.

So far this season Hans Wagner has made more errors than he used to make in three years when he was the National League's star shortstop.
